Todd Creek Golf Club is a links-inspired championship golf course located 25 miles north of Denver in the suburban city of Thornton, Colorado. Widely regarded as one of the best public courses in the Denver metropolitan area, it anchors a 55+ residential community and is a popular tee time for golfers looking for a challenging but playable layout. Legendary course architect Arthur Hills laid out the playing field, formerly known as Heritage Todd Creek Golf Course, in 2007. Six judiciously spaced sets of tee markers present differentiated challenges between 4,514 yards and 7,435 yards. While houses line both sides of several fairways, the playing corridors are generous, and the homes aren't a distraction. Todd Creek Golf Club is a wide open, exposed layout that rambles over gently rolling terrain with the Rocky Mountains in the distance. Though the playing field is fairly flat, the contoured fairways often slip away at the margins. Native grasses and strategically placed bunkers constitute the principal defenses against par at Todd Creek Golf Club. Water, in the form of a couple of lakes and a drainage ditch, enters the fray on a few holes. The greens are large, sloped and rather fast. Some of the putting surfaces are domed. Over the years the club has earned a reputation for fine course conditioning. Despite the fact that Todd Creek Golf Club is the most high-profile feature of a retirement community, the expansive golf course is too spread out to be conducive to walking. If you were just to walk the cart paths, you would put in a good 9.5 miles on foot. Practice facilities at Todd Creek Golf Club include a spacious driving range, two chipping greens, and a putting green. The clubhouse boasts a well-stocked pro shop and a restaurant. No wonder when golfers look for a tee time in the Denver metro area, the unique and challenging Arthur Hills layout at Todd Creek Golf Club in Thornton is a go-to option favored by players of diverse skill levels.

USGA and all the following local rules shall govern all play.

1. Out of bounds is defined by white stakes.
2. Keep carts on paths around all tees and greens. Keep carts out of the native areas at all times. Please follow all cart signs.
3. Please observe the 90 degree rule unless otherwise indicated.
4. Use the entry and exit poles at all times. Enter through the green poles, keep the carts on the fairways and exit through the red poles.
5. Yardage measurements are to the center of the green.
6. Private residences are not in play, nor are they part of the golf course.
7. Pace of play is 4 1/4 hours or less for 18 holes.
8. Replace or fill divots and fix ball marks on the greens.
9. No outside alcohol permitted on golf course property. We have a zero tolerance policy, Colorado State law.
10. #13 aiming post signifies the center of the fairway.
